

UKULELE ROCKS!

www.ukulelerocks.co.uk

The National Anthem of the United Kingdom...some facts!

- ◆ Written around 277 years ago!
- ◆ An 'Anthem' is an exciting uplifting song to do with a particular group of people
- ◆ Nobody knows who wrote it, but bits of it have been said to have been written by a man called John Bull.
- ◆ The melody to a very similar song was first published in a magazine in 1745
- ◆ It has 3 verses but they are hardly ever all performed.
- ◆ The Royal family get to hear it when they appear at events...
  - ◆ The Queen gets to hear ALL of it...whereas...
  - ◆ The Prince of Wales only gets 6 bars!

Question		YES	NO
	The National Anthem of the UK is called God Save The King...
	It was written over 250 years ago...
	The words and music were written by John Bull...
	The National Anthem of the UK has 4 verses, but they are not often all sung...
	An Anthem is an exciting, uplifting song for a group...
	The Royal family get to hear it every time they go out...
	There have been LOTS of different versions of the words over many years...
	The first melody was published in a book in 1745...
	The Anthem has 3 verses, but usually only one is performed...
	Do you like 'God Save the Queen?'...

